

WAYS FOR SPONSORS TO HELP DURING COMMISSIONING WEEK

Though Sponsors, by definition, tend to be very people oriented individuals, with a great desire to help others, their assistance often goes unused during Commissioning Week. These are some ways in which Sponsors, usually located within close proximity to Annapolis, could offer specific help, in an attempt to be more useful to those they're trying to serve.

Offer to go visit potential rental homes if a trip to Annapolis isn't possible for the mid's family

Provide information about potential neighborhoods where rentals (homes, hotels, or bed and breakfasts) are located

Provide general information concerning distances rentals are located from USNA

Provide basic directional and timing of traffic flow information around Annapolis

Offer to store CW purchased party supplies at their home, for later use by the family at a hotel or rental home

Offer to house a mid and his/her personal belongings at their home during the interim time between the move out of Bancroft Hall and the family's arrival in Annapolis

Offer to house extra family members during CW

Offer to pick up individual family members or guests arriving during an activity at USNA in which the mid and family are involved

Offer to run an errand like picking up ordered flowers, cake, etc.

Offer to take pictures of the whole family together so the photographer can be in the picture

Offer to go to the party location and help set up food while the family enjoys photo sessions at the stadium

Offer their home as a rental or event location
